Twenty-five Vessels, Which Sail from Bay, Seek Shelter Behind Capes.

NOW IN JAMAICA WATERS

Several Virginia Vessels Off Kingston at Time of Earthquake—Little Anxiety Felt.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., January 16.—A fleet of about twenty-five sailing vessels, which left Hampton Roads yesterday, was driven back to-day by the northeast gale which commenced to blow last night. The vessels could not go North or South. Among the returned vessels is the schooner William Linthicum, bound from Baltimore to Georgetown, S. C. The Linthicum has been in Hampton Roads for two weeks. Advice received here from the schooner John L. Snow shows that there is little chance of saving the schooner and its cargo of general merchandise. The tide is ebbing and flowing in the vessel. The wrecking tug William Coley is standing by, and will make an effort to float the schooner when the weather abates, should it be worth it.

Virginia Vessels at Kingston.
The Merritt and Chapman Derrick and Wrecking Company, of Norfolk and New York, had a steamer at Kingston when that city was shaken by the earthquake Monday afternoon, and another a hundred or so miles away.

The vessel at Kingston was the wrecking steamer Premier, engaged in salvaging operations on the steamship Princess Victoria Louise, stranded at Port Royal, at the entrance to Kingston harbor. The other is the big steamer Rescue, working on the British steamship Cornith, ashore at Grand Cuman, about 150 miles northwest of Kingston. Norfolk is the home station of the Rescue.

The Norfolk office of the wrecking company had no word from either of these vessels to-day. No uneasiness is felt for the Rescue, but it is regarded as barely possible that the ship may have gotten the Premier into trouble.

Wreckers do not pretend to say what effect the shock might have had on the stranded steamship. It is expected, at the Norfolk office of the wreckers, that the master of the Premier will send a message as soon as cable communication has been restored.

CRUISER CLEVELAND HAS STRICT ORDERS

Arrives from Havana, But No One Must Board or Leave the Warship.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., January 16.—The United States cruiser Cleveland this afternoon arrived from Havana, where she had been for several weeks. The vessel was under orders to proceed direct to the Norfolk Navy Yard, without stopping in Hampton Roads, or permitting any one to board or leave the vessel. She is now at anchor in Lynnhaven Bay, and will proceed to the navy yard to-morrow.

The gunboat Vespene this afternoon sailed for Beaufort, N. C., on a recruiting expedition.

The union boiler-makers, of Norfolk, now out on strike, expressed confidence to-day that they will win their fight for an increase in wages of twenty-five cents a day. They have withdrawn their demand for a reduction from nine to eight hours for a day's work.

SHOOT'S FRIEND WHILE AT COUNTRY DANCE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHATHAM, VA., Jan. 16.—River-side Richardson was lodged in jail here late Monday, charged with the shooting of Henry Luth, near Pickaway, Saturday night. The attending physician is reported as saying that Luth cannot live.

The negroes were at a dance when the shooting occurred, and what originated the row is yet unknown. Richardson, after being placed in jail, implicated another negro, for whom Deputy Sheriff Hodnett is now hunting. Richardson will be held for the grand jury at the next regular term of Circuit Court which convenes on the second Monday in February.

Miss Cora Poole and Mr. E. T. Jones, both of near Elba, Pittsylvania county, were married in the grocery store of S. S. Spruce, on Main Street, here Monday. Rev. Guyer of the Methodist Church, officiated. After the ceremony the couple departed for their home in the county.

At the regular meeting of William Pitt Camp, Modern Woodmen of America, on Monday night, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year: Consul, J. B. Geyer; Adviser, H. H. Shelton; Clerk, W. H. Treadway, Jr.; Banker, G. E. Thompson; Record, J. H. Whitfield; Manager for three years, Lee T. Jones; Watchman, E. L. Morris; Sentry, A. B. Haden.

William Turner, a respected and esteemed citizen of Pittsylvania county, died at his home near Chestnut Level, on last Friday afternoon. The funeral services were from the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Blair, on Saturday afternoon.

CONGRESSMAN'S WIFE Miss Lois Long to Become Wife of Hon. Richard N. Hackett.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SALISBURY, N. C., January 16.—Democratic Congressman-elect Richard N. Hackett, of the Eighth (North Carolina) District, will be married on January 31st to Miss Lois Long, of Statesville. Miss Long is a beautiful and accomplished daughter of Judge and Mrs. B. P. Long, one of the leading jurists in the State, and is herself a most charming young woman, well known throughout the State. Mr. Hackett is a rising young lawyer and politician, and is a man of exceptional professional ability. Because of the prominence of the two young people more than ordinary interest is taken in the coming marriage.

Store and Contents Burn.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MANTO, VA., January 16.—Mr. Van Gilliam's store, with a full line of merchandise and no insurance on property, was entirely destroyed by fire Friday night, and no cause is assigned other than the hand of an incendiary.

PURITY OF THE SYSTEM

Is the Secret of COMPLETE HEALTH.

Doesn't it stand to reason, that for perfect health, the human system must be kept pure and clean, inside as well as outside?

Then take Cascarets, the world-famous Bowel Medicine and system-cleaners, that will help you KEEP CLEAN INSIDE.

The body of man is the most perfect and delicate mechanism in existence, and the least OBSTRUCTION or accumulation of filth in any part of it, will make it hobble, move IRREGULARLY and SPASMODICALLY, and if not attended to promptly may stop the machine altogether.

Isn't that plain common sense to any person that has had any experience with machinery of human invention, from the sewing machine to the triple-expansion engine? All the parts, joints, connections, gears, must be kept absolutely pure and clean to get the best results. A careless, untidy engineer is a failure and will lose his job.

Nature has been kind to us by handing over to us to be occupied during our earthly existence, an almost automatic, elastic mechanism, that will run itself off only properly cared for.

All that she asks, is that the body be supplied with "Pure Food" fuel of the right kind, applied in the right way,—that a lubricant be furnished for the joints, muscles, nerves through the marvelous distributing and collecting system of arteries and veins,—and that all parts of the engine be used for the purposes intended without undue strain.

But, when little mistakes are made in eating and drinking, with perhaps excessive exertion, there is a liability of a stoppage in the natural cleansing process, and you are liable to become UNCLEAN INSIDE.

That means obstruction, stoppage of the normal functions, fermentation, poisoning of the blood by your own decaying sewage, and a liability of the development of any of hundreds of serious diseases.

Cascarets Candy Cathartic are fragrant, sweet, mild but effective little tablets that were first compounded from pure, harmless, vegetable substances, under a Pure Drug of their own, in 1896. These tablets proved to be the greatest lubricators for the bowels ever discovered, and at the same time a destroyer of disease germs in the whole alimentary (food) canal. They have won a sale of over a million boxes a month.

They are a pure, reliable, means of keeping the system clean, preventing all diseases arising from accumulations in Constipation, and also relieving and aiding the cure of chronic conditions after they have developed from neglect.

Begin today to watch your conditions, be careful of your food and general methods of living and learn to take precaution of "Keeping Clean Inside" with Cascarets. Buy a little 10c. box from your own druggist TO-DAY, be convinced and join our MILLIONS OF FRIENDS.

Be sure to "Get What You Ask For"—the Genuine, every tablet stamped "C. C. C."

FORT FISHER VETERANS MEET

Men in Blue and Gray Attending the Forty-second Anniversary. Have Good Time.

WILMINGTON, N. C., January 16.—The forty-second anniversary of the bombardment and capitulation of the last gateway of the South, at the mouth of the Cape Fear River, in 1865, was celebrated to-day.

The reunion was attended by more than 300 survivors on both sides, nearly half of whom came from Onslow county, New York State, members of the One Hundred and Seventeenth and One Hundred and Twelfth New York Volunteer Regiments.

A visit to the historic ruins of the fort, a public reception at the opera-house, at which reminiscences were given by the old soldiers, and at which high school students sang Confederate and national airs, and the formation of a survivors' association, composed of veterans on both sides during the Civil War, were the leading features of the reunion. Colonel William Lamb, of Norfolk, leading the Confederate forces, and General N. M. Curtis, of New York, leading the veterans in the reunion from the North.

The Survivors' Association elected Colonel Lamb president; General Curtis and General J. A. Smith, of Wilmington; Rev. M. E. Stone, of Utica, N. Y.; Rev. John B. Fairhead, of Utica; Rufus Daggett, of New York, and Major James H. Reeves, of Washington, vice-presidents.

Secretary, R. Price, of Wilmington; Treasurer, H. C. McQueen, of Wilmington; Historians, T. Evans, of Utica, N. Y., and F. O. Hawley, of Charlotte, N. C.

A resolution was unanimously passed memorializing Congress to have the Government adopt the grounds of Fort Fisher as a national park, with suitable monuments to the regiments of the Blue and the Gray who lost so heavily in the memorable engagement. (The Northern veterans, who came for the reunion, returned to their homes to-night.)

The veterans are leaving the city to-night. Over three-score of the One Hundred and Seventeenth New York Volunteers left for Petersburg, Va., to spend to-morrow, Friday the veterans visit Richmond; Saturday, Washington, and then go home.

FLORIDA LIMITED IN OPEN SWITCH

Fast Seaboard Train Wrecked and Four of Seven Cars Burned.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., January 16.—The famous Seaboard Air Line "Florida Limited" train, No. 84, northbound, was wrecked two miles north of Raleigh this morning, and four of the seven cars composing the train burned. Strangers to say, no one was killed, and the only persons injured were Conductor Haddock, slightly cut on the left cheek, and two porters injured, but not seriously.

The body of John C. Durbine, who died at Palm Beach Monday, and was being carried to Harrisburg, was burned. His widow and son were passengers on the train.

The wreck is believed to have been the work of train-wreckers, as Engineer W. A. Steele declares that there was some obstruction on the track, and that he saw three or four men going away from the place as his train approached. The accident was right at the junction of the Seaboard Air Line and the Raleigh and Pamlico Sound roads, and it was found that the switch had been tampered with, the lock being broken.

The engine and tender of the train went off on one side of the track and the cars of the train ran into the R. & P. S. switch, where they collided with a number of freight cars standing there.

The crash disabled the engine, and the pipes in the Florida Limited and started the fire, which destroyed four of the seven coaches and several of the freight cars of the R. & P. S. One of the coaches was the fine Pullman which was exhibited at the World's Fair as the finest and best equipped of its class in the world, having cost $30,000.

It is considered marvelous that all the passengers escaped uninjured. However, there were only about twenty-five passengers on the train.

The three uninjured cars were included in a special train that was made up here and sent over the Southern track to Durham, thence to Henderson, where the main line of the Seaboard was reached again, and the run to Richmond and New York resumed.

ARREST HANDSOME ATLANTA WOMAN

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ASHEVILLE, N. C., January 16.—Mrs. L. V. Knight, a handsome and attractive woman of Atlanta, Ga., was arrested here Sunday night, charged with the theft of $50 worth of wearing apparel, alleged to have been stolen from the rooms of Mrs. W. H. Wilcox, on West Chestnut Street. She is also charged with complicity in the robbery of $300 worth of jewels, which disappeared from the Manor Hotel last summer.

Mrs. Knight, who has the appearance of a woman of refinement, declared when arrested that she was innocent, but during her preliminary hearing before a police magistrate yesterday the articles of wearing apparel were produced, the police alleging that they were found in her trunk as the result of a search among her effects at the boarding-house in which she was living. After the hearing Mrs. Knight was bound over to the Superior Court.

As the jewelry found in Mrs. Knight's possession has not as yet been identified by the owners, the charge in this connection was not pressed, but the detective alleges that the jewelry found answers the description of the jewelry reported to have been stolen last summer.

When arrested Mrs. Knight was very nervous and excited, and begged that she be given the matter, explaining that she had but recently left a sanitarium, and if she had done wrong her physical and mental condition was responsible for her actions.

The theft of a diamond brooch and other jewelry at the Manor was reported to the police last summer by Miss Mabel Underwood, of Louisiana. The police were unable to locate the stolen jewelry, and the affair has remained a mystery, and it is now alleged by the police that these jewels are among the valuables found among Mrs. Knight's effects, and Miss Underwood has been communicated with.

PRESIDENT AND GOV. OF VIRGINIA

Both Deliver Addresses Before the National Convention for Foreign Service.

600 GUESTS WERE PRESENT

Roosevelt Pays a Graceful Compliment to the Commonwealths of Virginia and Maryland.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 16.—The President, Secretary of State Root, Speaker Cannon and Governors Warfield, of Maryland, and Swanson, of Virginia, were the principal speakers on the program at a banquet given in honor of the National Convention for the Promotion of Foreign Commerce tonight at the Arlington Hotel, by the New York Board of Trade and Transportation. There were six hundred guests at the banquet.

The guests arose and cheered for five minutes when President Roosevelt entered the banquet hall, and was introduced by President McCarroll, of the convention. The President declared that it was a peculiar pleasure for him, on behalf of the government, to greet the delegates and "to have the Governors of the great States of Maryland and Virginia present." He paid a tribute to Secretary Root, and declared that the minute we leave American soil party lines are disregarded, "and we are all Americans."

He said he would talk on three subjects: First, "Our relations with San Domingo; second, the consular service, and third, the extension of our trade in Central and South America. The first duty of the government, the President said, is to help San Domingo stand on her own feet." He referred to the pending treaty, which, he declared, if adopted, will remove all danger in future of any necessity for intervention.

"One of the greatest objects of the San Domingo revolution," the President declared, "was to get control of the custom-house. Under the present plan this privilege is denied."

The President then took up the question of reform in the consular service and praised the convention for its work in this connection.

Consular Service.

"I believe that a great improvement has been wrought in the consular service," he said, "but I do not believe that the power of removal should be restricted." The President declared that both in the civil and military service he keeps open "the door of ready exit for the unfit." He said that no one but himself had the power to close this door. He urged the passage of laws by the present Congress that will extend American trade to every section of the globe.

The President declared that there is no doctrine advocated by any nation of the world that compares with the Monroe doctrine in advancing the cause of peace. He predicted a continued reign of prosperity, not only for America, but for Europe and Asia as well.

The principal feature of the final session to-day of the convention was the adoption of a resolution recommending the passage by Congress of such legislation as will promote the growth of the American Merchant Marine. The recommendation was reported by the Committee on Resolutions, and was unanimously endorsed by the convention. Among those who spoke were D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., on "The Importance of an American Merchant Marine"; J. Hampton Dougherty, of New York, on "Ship Subsidies and Closer Commercial Relations With South American Countries"; and Thomas M. Osborne, of Auburn, N. Y., on "Obstacles to Foreign Commerce."

A lively discussion took place as to the nature of the recommendations to be made on the question of ship subsidy. The Merchants' and Exporters' Association of the United States, of New York, presented a resolution which approved of the ship subsidy bill now pending in Congress.

This action met with a vigorous protest by the delegates from the Mississippi Valley States. The convention refused to place itself on record in behalf of the measure before Congress.

Swanson Speaks.

"If there is anything that the South is proud of it is that the great President of the United States is a half Southerner, his mother being a Georgia woman," said Governor Swanson, of Virginia, in his address on the "South and Her Progress."

"We of the South," he continued, "have followed the President in half of his policies—those he inherited from his mother. We admire him because he is too honest to be corrupted, and he always does what is right, regardless of consequences."

Governor Swanson reviewed the progress of the South since the war, and compared the old and the new South. The one died, he said, with the surrender of the immortal Lee, and the other was born at Appomattox in darkness and despair.

PLEA FOR PLAYGROUNDS.

Henry S. Curtis Tells What Other Cities Are Doing.

Owing to the inclement weather, the lecture of Professor Henry S. Curtis on the children's playground movement last night at the Y. M. C. A. Hall received a small attendance. The lecturer, however, held the attention of those present throughout. A fine collection of stereopticon views was exhibited, showing the work of the various playground associations in great cities of this country.

The speaker explained in detail the work of such places as Hamilton Park Recreation Centre, Chicago, on which the city spent $4,000,000 in 1905. Illustrations were also given of the Armour Square Recreation Park, Chicago, and the Seward Park in New York.

The city of New York has spent, according to Professor Curtis, about $15,000,000 on small parks with playground features. The Seward Park is in the section known as the ghetto and cost for land and improvements $3,800,000.

Professor Curtis also showed the work of the New York public schools, in many of which playgrounds have been established, where games, gymnasium work, band concerts, etc., are held on summer evenings.

Professor Curtis closed with a strong appeal for the young of the cities; that an organized effort be made to give them an opportunity to acquire sound, healthy bodies, fully developed minds, and sound morals.

"The change for the better in neighborhoods where playgrounds have been provided is marked. Happiness for the children, relief for the tired mothers of the tenement house districts and ideals that make for good citizenship is a brief summary of the results."
